Unlocking the Truth

Description: Unlocking the Truth is an interactive training course designed to improve your ability to identify the veracity of information collected through all forms of communication. You will learn to identify verbal and non-verbal behaviors that indicate someone may be unsure about the accuracy of the information they are providing, omitting relevant information or purposely lying. This skill set is applicable to all forms of human interaction, personal and professional, when not knowing the truth could negatively impact either you or your company's future success.

Tactical Interviewing Skills

Description: Tactical Interviewing Skills (TIS) optimizes your ability to collect quality information through improved interviewing skills. TIS provides a systematic interview strategy focusing on interview preparation, design and execution of carefully crafted questions and use of psychological advantages. These cutting edge techniques will allow you to obtain the most truthful information the interviewee has to offer. TIS works in conjunction with "Unlocking the Truth," to provide a skill set to effectively and thoroughly assess the veracity of information collected during the interview that could impact critical business decisions.
